

Download How To Find A High Paying Medical Job

The 40 Highest-Paying Jobs You Can Get Without A Bachelor's Degree. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, more than 60 percent of U.S. workers don't have a bachelor's degree, but if you have an associate's degree, a postsecondary non-degree award, or a high school diploma, you can still get a high-paying job. How to Find a High Paying Medical Sales Job in the New Year January 4, 2016 February 19, 2019 medreps As the new year approaches, you're setting new goals both professionally and personally. The 10 highest-paying health care jobs 1. Physicians and surgeons. 2. Dentists. 3. Podiatrists. 4. Pharmacists. 5. Nurse anesthetists, nurse midwives, and nurse practitioners. 6. Optometrists. 7. Physician assistants. 8. Veterinarians. 9. Physical therapists. 10. Occupational therapists. 2 Physicians and Surgeons. Although the pay is high, the required investment of time, school, and money needed to become a doctor are also large. After college, prospective doctors must complete a four-year medical school program, and then 3-7 years of residency training, depending on the medical specialty they wish to practice.